

My Progress Tracker

Tracking your mood day by day can be a useful tool to help you monitor your progress. And by tracking your progress over time, and sharing the results with your doctor, you can identify personal trends that might help you and your doctor in managing your depression.

Simply write the number that best corresponds to how often you've felt each item listed below. Then add up the numbers in each column for your daily score. By comparing your daily/weekly scores you can see your progress from week to week.

Please note: This is not a diagnostic tool. Only a health care professional can diagnose depression.
